GREEN WITH ENVY

Ever since Angelina Jolie dazzled us at the 2009 Oscars with her long emerald tear-drops, most red carpet events have seen a new celebrity — or two — turn green when it came to earrings. Yet, as popular as the color has been for the past four years, the trend exploded in 2013 when Pantone named emerald its color of the year. Designers are greening up their collections with regal gems and various other stones that have the same rich, deep hue, including apple green and nephrite jade, green tourmaline, malachite and tsavorite garnet. — EDITED BY Beth Bernstein
